To Ponder Over.

No merchant whose expenses are large can sell goods at a small profit. We do most our work ourselves, buy our goods from the best houses in the city, and best of all, content ourselves with the lowest margin of profit.

Our New Fall Goods

Are in and our store is crowded with Bargains for everybody.

We buy your produce, pay the highest price for it, and believe we can save you money on anything that can be obtained in a first-class

GENERAL STORE.

Come to see us, we take as much pleasure in showing you our goods as some merchants do in selling you.

Will Celebrate.

Some time in January the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of Kentucky University at Lexington will take place. The occasion promises to be a most memorable one in every respect. Kentucky University, formerly Transylvania University, has a reputation which is world-wide. Before many of the institutions of learning began to spring up in this country, Transylvania University had the reputation of being the finest institution of the kind west of the Allegheny mountains.—Richmond Register.

Circulars, whose origin has not been traced, have been going through the mails to negroes in different parts of the South urging them to deeds of violence.

Child of Remarkable Memory.

Mr. J. C. Jordan, of Monroe county is the father of a very remarkable child. Although only three years of age, little Berin Jordan is gifted with an extraordinary memory, and his faculty for remembering historical and geographical facts is astonishing. By listening to his brothers and sisters, who attend school, read their lessons to each other at night, he has remembered the date of every historical event recorded in history since the sailing of Columbus. He also has an amazing knowledge of geography, and can give an accurate description of almost any country in the world, and can tell the name and location of nearly every city in America. When a newspaper article is read to him a few times he can repeat it word for word without an error. He is in development of memory a phenomenon, who perhaps has no equal in the United States.

It took Germany much longer than France to comprehend the real strength and purposes of the United States in its dealings with Spain, and it is gratifying to us to learn even at this late day that there has been a decided change in German views toward us. Much of this new sentiment is due to the diplomacy of Admiral Dewey and the personal reports to the Emperor of the German observers of the Santiago campaign.

United States Minister White has all along insisted that the official sentiment of Berlin was not antagonistic to us; but the German Admiral at Manila and the most influential newspapers certainly reflected a different feeling. Now, the press, high officials and representatives of vast commercial interests have entirely changed their attitude, and are outspoken in the hope that the United States will not relinquish the Philippine Islands, and, above all, will not return them to Spain, under whom the revolution and commercial troubles would be prolonged.—Ex.

"Wad" Stephens took a skiff load of honey to Ford a few days ago, but found a dull sale for it, and he brought the most of it back home. Wad says the "coons" have no money.

We would be very much indebted to the "Fool Killer" if he would come along this way some day and maul the stuffing out of some few tattlers who make it a business to stir up strife and keep the neighborhood in a general uproar. They are poor, miserable wretched, humane cussedness and need a forty year term in the reform school or somewhere else so they would learn to attend to their own affairs.

Iron Mound.

Corn gathering still keeps the farmers busy in this vicinity.

We have had several days of fine hog killing weather this week.

J. H. Thomas made a flying trip to Miller's Creek the first of this week.

Bud Puckett and family have been right sick with measles for the last week or ten days.

Well "Nick," old boy, I cannot answer your questions definitely as to the color of Eve's hair and the kind of shoes Adam wore, but will give my opinion. Eve's hair was not black, for if it had been she would have killed the snake at once; it was not red, for if it had been that color she would have had such a terror for snakes she would have fainted, and, consequently, she must have had flaxen hair. As to Adam's shoes, he had none, for if he had, he certainly would have stamped Eve and the snake both to death. I am surprised at you, "Nick," for being so ignorant, and writing for and reading the only paper in Estill county, and also, from your name, being the identical person that appeared to Eve while in the garden. The first pension resulting from the war with Spain has been granted private Gates, of the Second artillery. He will receive $17 a month for the loss of a portion of his upper lip and will probably get more through the medium of a private pension bill.

Every town has its different class of citizens. Some pull on every string that will benefit themselves and their neighbors, and sometimes if they do not see much for themselves, but see their neighbors will be benefited, pull just as hard. Others never pull unless they can see the direct benefit to themselves, and sometimes let go if they think their neighbors will be benefited. They are too selfish to be of any benefit outside of simply adding one to the population and consuming the amount of food necessary for their existence.—Milton News.

ARE YOU A DEMOCRAT?

An old adage reads: "There is a place for everything," and for everything to be in its place, the LOUISVILLE DISPATCH should find a place in the home of every DEMOCRAT in the SUNNY SOUTH. The Dispatch is the people's paper, owned by the people, and is always ready to fight for the cause of the people. IT STANDS SQUARELY ON THE CHICAGO PLATFORM, without the aid or consent of the Gold Bug Monopolies, and a fair comparison of its news service (now being furnished over leased wires by the New York Sun, the Chicago Inter Ocean and the Northern Press Association) with that of any other paper, will fully verify its motto, "If you see it in the Dispatch it's so, and if it's so it is always in the Dispatch."

The Dispatch also has a staff of over 300 active correspondents in the South, and will POSITIVELY GUARANTEE MORE THAN DOUBLE THE SOUTHERN NEWS of any other Louisville paper. Get the Dispatch; it gives the news and tells the truth about it.

Daily, 8 pages; Sunday, 24 pages; Weekly, 8 pages. We club with the Weekly Dispatch at the remarkably low price of Since Tuesday the weather has been delightful fall weather, but this morning snow clouds are hanging low and it is snowing some with prospects good for a right smart snow.

James Goff bought of B. B. Hutson some 1100 pound steers at 4 cents, and a bunch of yearlings at the same price.

The crop of weddings in the State is larger this month than in November last year, which encourages the bachelors and spinsters.

The parsonage of the Methodist church South at Clay City is being pushed to completion. It will be ready for occupancy by Christmas.

J. W. Dawson & Bro. have bought a car load of flour from Cain & Rout, the Versailles flour mills. They will sell it very cheap when it arrives.

The County Court of Madison county has had published an order for a local option election in the Richmond, Union and Elliston magisterial district Dec. 10.

Thanksgiving day was not generally observed in this community, but the booming of the hunters' guns could be heard from early in the morning till late in the evening.

We will have a Christmas tree this year. Elsewhere in this issue will be found the names of those who have contributed to the general fund, and the amount contributed by each.

The New Home Sewing Machine Company has an ad. in this issue. Persons needing a machine would do well to send to no. 310 N. 11th Street, St. Louis, Mo. for circulars and prices. No better machine is made than the New Home.

Francis Blythe was convicted of the killing of Herbert Brown and sentenced to the penitentiary for five years by the Stanton Circuit Court last week. Blythe killed Brown at a 4th of July picnic at Clay City last year while acting as policeman, and was thought by most people who saw the killing, to be justifiable.

The Agitator, a Democratic paper recently started at Frenchburg, is a neat five column folio and a credit to the town and county in which it is published. It is a home made paper by home people, and has a striking resemblance of the TIMES. We predict for it success.

In 1887 Mr. Thomas McIntosh, of Allentown, Tenn., had an attack of dysentery, which became chronic. "I was treated by the best physicians in East Tennessee without a cure," he says. Morgan McKinney sold his personalty last Friday. He recently rented his farm to Luther Hamilton for $750. He will go to Spoutspring and live with his mother. The fiscal court of Estill county met to consider the payment of the county's bonds, voted in aid of the R., N., I. & B. railroad, and after hearing propositions from the holders of the bonds, adjourned till December 20. It is thought that an amicable adjustment will be reached and the matter settled at that time.

This will close a litigation of about six years, the county having contested the validity of the bond issue and lost in the Court of Appeals. The county was represented by County Attorney L. A. West and J. B. White. The bondholders were represented by G. E. Lilly, of Richmond, Ky., W. H. Lilly, Riddell & Riddell and C. W. Miller of Irvine.

A Sure Sign of Croup.
Hoarseness in a child that is subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Many mothers who have croupy children always keep this remedy at hand and find that it saves much trouble and worry. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by J. W. It is a disgrace to a number of school districts in the State to have such school buildings and fixtures as they have. The superintendent of Madison county schools found in one of the districts of his county a teacher using a stove without any pipe, and there are hundreds of other schools in Eastern Kentucky in as bad or in a worse condition.

The Best Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on the affected parts is superior to any plaster. When troubled with a pain in the chest or side, or a lame back, give it a trial. You will be certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. Pain Balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. For sale by J. W. Dawson & Bro.

I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicines the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than of all other makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children. E. J. SCANTLEBURY.

The Same Over Here.

Some of our hunters think it hard that they are not permitted to hunt rabbits on the premises of farmers. The farmers have been so liberal in allowing hunters to shoot over their farms that they have been sorely imposed upon. Their fowls have been bagged when found in obscure places; their hogs, cattle and horses have been filled with bird shot, and in some instances killed; their fences have been broken down and their meadows injuriously tramped over, and altogether the obnoxious so-called sport has made himself a very objectionable creature and a menace to the life and property of the farmer. Put yourself in the farmer's place and you will say he is right.—Dover News.

Sam Jones at Louisville.

Sam Jones preached at Library Hall, Louisville, recently and here are a few of his choicest sayings:

"Now, you high roller, you low down hounds, you! Don't you know the devil is getting the upper hand when you forget your duty to your mother and your wife?"

"The red-nosed democrats, and the swell-bellied republicans mix up with this dirty gang, and I would steal a horse as quick as I would vote for either of them. You politicians talk about the principles of the grand old republican party. What principles can a party have that sends a man home to his family drunk?"

"Poor old whisky-soaked Louisville! Poor old whisky-soaked Kentucky! The state won't dry, even in spots. If you people haven't had enough you had better bleach and quit. Now I can hear some women say: 'I would like Sam Jones better if he wasn't so coarse.' Why, I am as decent as any congregation that ever gathered in a Louisville church. If I were talking to 3,000,000 I would not make a single slip in my sermon. But fancy a fellow preaching a decent sermon to a crowd like this!"

"A man asked me if I was a democrat, and I told him: 'Now, are you a republican,' he asked, and I answered, 'No, thank God.' Then he asked 'Are you a populist,' and I said 'Do you think I am a fool?"

"In this country now there are 150,000 divorce cases pending—think of it—and it's all due to whisky and 'sassiety.' Yes, Louisville society! It is a shoddy turn-out at best. Sort of a splitleather, pasteboard affair. Over in Baltimore they wouldn't let you sweep out the kitchen.

"Now, these old Kentucky Colonels—these big old dogs—I have nothing against them. I should just as soon see them put in a glass case. The devil would come along and peep in, and shake his head and say: 'I have nothing to compare to that.'"

"When you show me a society woman who thinks more of a poodle dog than she does of a child, or who thinks a large family of children is something to be avoided, I tell you there is something wrong about that woman's constitution and by laws. She is a bad egg."—Richmond Pantagraph.

A father was lecturing his son on the evil of staying out late at night and rising late in the morning.

"You will never succeed," said he, "unless you mend your ways. Remember the early bird catches the worm."

"And what about the worm, father?" said the young man sneeringly. "Wasn't he rather foolish in getting up so early?"

"My son," said the old man, "that worm hadn't been to bed at all; he was only getting home."

The young man coughed.—Exchange.

Benjamin Franklin's Bequest to Boston.

A curious litigation is in progress in Massachusetts to determine the disposition of what is locally known as the Franklin Fund. Benjamin Franklin made a bequest of 1000 to the Selectmen of Boston and the pastors of the oldest Presbyterian, Congregational and Protestant Episcopal churches there, a part to become available at the end of the first one hundred years and the remainder at the end of the second. In 1894 the bequest, with accumulations, amounted to $430,000, of which $330,000 was then available.

A large number of institutions filed claims for all or part of the released fund; but the Board of Aldermen, which succeeded the Selectmen, and the pastors of the First Presbyterian, the First Congregational and the Old North churches decided to establish a Franklin Trades School, as being most in accord with Franklin's intentions. Oppositions to this decision has resulted in throwing the case into the Supreme Court of the State.
